Antioch Undefeated, Plays Wauconda Here, Hebron There Saturday

Sequoits Beat Glenbrook 71 to 27, L. Forest 51-25, Over Holiday

The undefeated Sequoits have a busy weekend ahead of them with a game tomorrow evening here against Wauconda, winner of the Richmond Invitational, and against Hebron there on Saturday night.

Wauconda defeated Grant 47-44 in the final game at Richmond after having lost to the Ingleside quintet earlier in the year 51-49.

On the basis of these games Antioch is hoping to continue wearing its crown as the Northwest Conference champs.

What will happen at Hebron Saturday evening is anybody's guess although the Sequoits are determined to make it a battle. Hebron has lost several games this year, but by only a few points and held Waukegan, county champs to a 55-53 score.

100 Tickets Allotted

One hundred tickets have been allotted to Antioch for the Hebron game where the Junior Varsity will open the session at 7:15 p. m. Principal Paul Tigard announced that it is impossible to grant more tickets because the gymnasium will only seat 540 spectators. If local fans are early enough they might be fortunate enough to purchase from the 75 general admission tickets. The 100 tickets sent to Antioch will be distributed to high school students and parents of the boys on the teams.

The Sequoits head the list of undefeated teams in Lake county with three victories. They have made 185 points to their opponents' 73.

Haviland High Scorer

Antioch won from Glenbrook here a week ago last evening by the lopsided score of 71 to 27. The game was full of fouls and the visitors made 19 of their points via the free-throw route. They were held to four field goals.

Mike Haviland was high scorer for Antioch with 23 points.

The JV's also won from Glenbrook 41 to 28.

The Sequoits continued their winning ways against Lake Forest Saturday evening, winning from the North Shore boys 51 to 25. Again Mike Haviland was high scorer with five field goals and two fouls for a total of 12 points, but Fred Clarke was a close second with 11 points on three field goals and five fouls. Ted Olson was high point man for Lake Forest with 10 points.

The Lake Forest Junior Varsity defeated the Antioch JV's, however 45 to 38.

The score by quarters for the varsity was:

Antioch	14	29	43	51-51
Lake Forest	2	9	18	25-25
Antioch	20	40	52	71-71
Glenbrook	11	14	19	27-27

Arrangement has been made for entertainment which will follow the installation service. A string ensemble with David Chasaw as solo violinist, and Miss June Brown and Allen Keller, radio artists, as vocal soloists, will perform. 1,500 Children Greet Santa Claus On Arrival In Antioch On Saturday

Christmas Shopping Season Officially Opened By Merchants

With the arrival of Santa Claus Saturday, Antioch took on a Christmas appearance and for the next three weeks the general interest of the community will center on this great holiday.

An estimated 1,500 children greeted the jolly old man as he arrived at 11 a. m. and the rest of the day was spent by them in telling him their wants for Christmas and in receiving a candy treat.

Santa headed a parade from Rte. 173 up Main st. then west on Lake st. through the business section, back to Main and north to Orchard where it turned west to Broadway and south to the headquarters in the Rescue Squad building.

Participating in the parade were the Antioch fire department and rescue squad, floats by Charles Cermak Real Estate and Insurance; Frostee Sno Co.; Amiel Feyrabend, Studebaker dealer; Art's Paint Store; Keller Chevrolet Sales; Carlson Ford Sales; Antioch Lumber and Coal Co.; Olson Implement Co.; MariAnne's; Reeves Drug Store; and Antioch Nash Sales.

Charles Cermak, president of the Chamber of Commerce which sponsored the visit of Santa Claus, said the crowd was handled in a much more orderly manner than last year as the children had more time to talk to Santa.

He expressed his appreciation to Santa and to others who brought the holiday spirit to the community. George Borovicka served as chairman of the party and the Christmas decorations; Art Meyer of Art's Paint Store, decorated Santa's parade float; Mrs. Cermak decorated the tree at the rescue squad building; Police Chief Walter Scott, William Thiemann, Robert Loody and Thomas Pechousek decorated the streets and did the electrical work.

Peter Matson and Thomas Mahoney helped maintain order at Santa's headquarters.

Most of the merchants had their windows attractively decorated for the holiday season and Christmas buying already is well under way.

Student Center Fund Has Reached $800; Canvassing Continues

More than $800 has been collected for the Antioch Township Youth Center by high school students.

The students started with a nest egg of $500 which they themselves earned and then last week they canvassed their own communities in obtaining additional money. They have a goal of $2,000 which if reached will give them reasonable assurance of obtaining a place where they can spend their leisure hours under proper environment.

A thermometer, recording the total amount of the fund is being placed in the Antioch Township High School.

The students are still looking for work at 50 cents or more an hour and their earnings will be turned over to this fund. Those wanting work are asked to call Antioch 888.

Collecting is still to be done in the various subdivisions of the township.

Northern Ill. Gas Co. Now Subsidiary of Big Commonwealth Edison

Articles of incorporation were filed Nov. 25 with the Illinois Secretary of State to establish Northern Illinois Gas Company. The new company is being organized as a subsidiary of Commonwealth Edison Company to own and operate the gas properties of Edison's Public Service Company division which serves 450,000 gas customers in northern Illinois outside Chicago.

Willis Gale, Edison chairman, last month announced plans to segregate Edison's gas operations. He said that most of the present directors of Edison will also serve as directors of the new gas company. Management and personnel of the new company will be unchanged from that of the present Public Service gas operations.

Under the program, Edison plans to sell $80,000,000 of mortgage bonds which will be a lien on the gas properties. Upon transfer of the gas properties, the bonds, constituting about 80 per cent of the new company's capitalization, will become the obligation of Northern Illinois Gas Company.

Camp Lake Resident Injured At Soo Line Station Last Saturday

George Boyd, 49, a resident of Camp Lake, is in a serious condition but improving at Victory Memorial hospital as the result of an injury received Saturday night at the Soo Line station.

While the cause of the injury is not exactly known, Chief of Police Walter I. Scott said it is believed that Boyd was struck in the head by a hand rail of a passenger car of the northbound evening train No. 17 as the train was being backed into position for unloading of baggage.

Boyd came to the station to meet a son whom he expected to come home from Chicago. The train passed him in coming to a stop and then backed a car length to bring the baggage car in line with a truck, the policeman said.

Scott said Boyd was seen to crumple and fall at the side of the car and was picked up unconscious. He was taken to Victory Memorial hospital by the Antioch Rescue squad. Hospital attendants said X-ray pictures had been taken of Boyd's head but had not been read yesterday.

The accident occurred but a short distance from where two Antioch men were killed recently by the same train at the nearby crossing at Depot st.

No Money For Night Patrolman Merchants Told

Village Board Unable to Find Cash for Extra Service

Antioch merchants want police protection at night and so does the village board but the problem is the financing of the service.

No solution was found by board members and representatives of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce who discussed the matter for an hour and a half Tuesday evening.

Pat Quilty, former deputy sheriff, presented to the board a list of 46 merchants, 45 of whom want the service of a night patrolman but want the village to bear the cost. Quilty said that 21 of the merchants were willing to pay a monthly fee, but they thought they ought not to have to pay the service for the benefit of others.

President James McMillen agreed on the matter and said a night patrolman should be a member of the police force and under village control.

"How are you at rodding out sewers, or reading meters? Our policemen have to do that," the mayor said.

Police Do Other Work

"We haven't got the money to pay a man merely to ride around in a patrol car. Our policemen have to do two or three other jobs," McMillen explained.

"How do other villages like Fox Lake maintain night police?" asked Bruno Manzarzo, automobile merchant, whose place of business has been burglarized in times past.

"Fox Lake has something like 48 taverns which it gets license money from and local merchant consent to be licensed," Atty. Ed Jacobs volunteered.

A suggestion from Manzarzo that local merchants be licensed brought forth the information that such a law already is on the books but that it has been unpopular. Also, the amount that might be derived from such a source would be far from adequate.

Would Cost $5,000 Yearly

It was estimated that it would cost $5,000 a year for a night patrolman with his own car and that amount is not available.

"Can't we ever look forward to 24-hour protection in Antioch?" asked Manzarzo.

It was explained that an attempt was made several years ago by the Lions club to obtain the service and no money was found available. Even the parking meter fund is not that lucrative.

Clerk Clarence Shultis said that $850 had been paid out so far this fiscal year for extra police. They are obtained for Halloween night and for highway patrol during the summer.

Take Problem to Merchants

Charles Cermak, president of the Chamber of Commerce and George Borovicka, a vice president, agreed that the village doesn't have the money to provide the service and they had no idea how it could be obtained, but said the problem would be placed before the merchants at the regular meeting of the Chamber Monday noon.

Mayor McMillen turned down an invitation to the meeting saying his business kept him from all such meetings.

"Tell us where we can get the money and we'll see that the village has a night patrolman," Trustee Murrill Cunningham promised. Trustee Ernest H. Glenn said that merchant police had been tried before but failed.

Water, Sewer Mains Laid; Systems Are Nearing Completion

Work on the new water well system and sewer main east of the Soo Line railroad tracks on village property is nearing completion. Installation of the water pump and connections are still to be done.

Mike Reimers, head of the Inland Lakes Construction Co., which installed the water line, was disgusted last week when under pressure a cast iron pipe in the water main split wide open, showing interior workmanship on the part of the manufacturer. He got a replacement rapidly. The rest of the water main stood the test.

The Inland Lakes Co. obtained Reimers to install the 8-inch sewer from its plant to the village sanitary sewer at North Main st. and the work has been completed.

"Capitalist Sales Methods" Praised

Time recently ran an article on Russia, in which it pointed out that the current slogan there is "Bring on the Consumer Goods." The Russian people have been officially promised that within the next few years there will be great increases in the production of all kinds of merchandise, including refrigerators, vacuum cleaners, TV sets, and so on.

Time also quoted a statement by Deputy Premier Mikoyan, in which he actually said that communism could learn from "capitalist sales methods." To quote him directly, "It should be kept in view that under competitive conditions . . . bourgeois countries have created good models of trade organization . . . cultured means of serving customers. It is impossible not to condemn those comrades who ignore foreign experience."

From that, it might be assumed that someone with influence in the Kremlin has had some experience with American retailing, which is a perfect example of "capitalist sales methods" under competitive conditions. The American retail store, big or little, chain or independent, gives the people the goods they want, the kind of service they demand, and charges prices which are in line with those of the competition or it soon goes out of business. In dictatorships, on the other hand, the people get what the bosses want them to have—often in minimum quantity and quality, and at maximum cost. It will be a considerable irony if the newly announced Soviet consumer policy means that the influence of American stores will be felt in the drab shops of Moscow.

Your Beef Steak

The meat packers have been selling dressed beef at wholesale for less money than they paid for the live animal on the hoof.

Here's the way it has been working. As of mid-October, the average price of choice grade steers at the big and typical Chicago market was 25.8 cents a pound, which meant that the packers paid $258 for a 1,000 pound steer of this grade. Such a steer yielded 590 pounds of choice grade dressed beef, the kind of meat desired by consumers. It was sold to retailers at an average of 41 cents a pound, or a total of $241.90—$16.10 less than was paid for the live animal.

How was this apparent dead loss made up? The answer is that the packer sells by-products which would be of no use to the consumer of beef—hides, fats, etc. And the money he gets for these helps offset many of his dressing, handling and selling expenses.

The situation on the retail level is also interesting. From the 590 pounds of choice grade beef he bought for $251.90 the butcher gets about 450 pounds of retail cuts which he can sell for $291.40, the remainder being accounted for by natural shrinkage, trimming, bone and other waste. And that retail markup must cover, at today's prices, labor, rents, depreciation, and all other overhead expenses, to say nothing of some profit for the store.

In the light of such facts as these, the argument that the spread between the wholesale price of beef on the hoof and the price charged for cuts in the butcher shop is excessive, falls to the ground.

The Value of Stocks

How good an investment are common stocks? No one can answer that question with finality, of course, for the value of stocks, like that of land and other kinds of property, sometimes goes up and sometimes goes down. But an objective two-year study just completed by the University of Michigan has produced some facts of outstanding interest.

The Michigan educators conducted their study in this fashion. They selected every stock—good, bad or indifferent—which had a turnover of 1,000,000 shares or more in 1936. Then they theoretically invested $1,000 in each of these stocks, which numbered 92, on January 15th of each year beginning in 1937. The total invested was $1,288,000. And the value of the portfolio on January 15, 1950, was $3,028,855. The dividends were also reinvested to produce this total.

Professors Eiteman and Smith, who made the study, concluded their report in these words: "If you were to invest a fixed sum of money every year for a period of years in a cross-section of common stocks, and if you reinvested all dividends, the return you could expect would be the equivalent of 12.2 per cent compound interest on your money."

Naturally, no one can say this would always happen—future experience might be better and it might be worse in the case of these 92 stocks or any other group. But the Michigan study indicates one of the reasons why more and more people of average means have been investing a portion of their savings in stocks, and have been well satisfied with the results.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

I been tryin' to deduct the how-come of the question of why the more holders of B. A., B. S., and other degrees, that roam the land the more wars we have—the more confusion that envelops us.

To start the ball rolling I would venture that the big fly in the ointment might be in the Big School house. Its curriculum is designed to fetch in the greatest number. In psychology, social science, welfare and such, a simple desire to enjoy campus life will come close to getting the applicant past the entrance gate. You go in more or less devoid of what it is all about—you come out with a B. S. in social uplift with which you can prove nothing via a slipstick—you just have an opinion. And such opinion is as liable to be as far from horse sense when you come out as when you went in—if not more so.

My proposed Big School during the first half year would sport a curriculum including history back to Ptolemy, Aesop, arithmetic, writing, and Joe Miller's jests. Just where and how the U. S. A. got itself on the sidetrack versus staying on the main line might get cleared up by the freshmen themselves if they were exposed for 6 months to my new course. Nobody with a B. S. in Aesop would be duck soup for the floors, ceilings and such theorist ideas we been putting up with—and still are.

Yours with the low down,

"OPEN SEASON" ON DEMOS

Illinois Young Republican local and state officers will officially declare "open season" on the Democrats in preparing for the 1954 Congressional and Senatorial elections as they play host to Governor William G. Stratton and Republican State Chairman Morton Hollingsworth at a luncheon at the St. Nicholas Hotel in Springfield on Wednesday, Dec. 9, it was announced today by State President Tilmon Kreiling of Peoria.

With activity during the next year to be aimed at the precinct level, the Young Republican Organization of Illinois is inviting the presidents of the 137 Young GOP county, ward, township and college clubs affiliated with it to join with the state YR officers in mapping plans for increased local activity.

Governor Stratton and Mr. Hollingsworth are expected to outline the methods through which the Young Republicans can be most effective in assisting the senior organization to capture congressional seats in the five marginal districts in the state, according to Kreiling.

Edward Slovick of Chicago, chairman of the Campaign committee of the State YR's will deliver a key report on these districts to the club presidents and members of the YR Board of Governors, of which C. Frederick Leydig, Chicago, is chairman.

Auxiliary News

At the last meeting of the Auxiliary, Antioch unit made contributions to the TB Christmas Seal fund and to the fund for "Yanks Who Gave." There are 17,000 disabled Veterans to be remembered at Christmas and spreading cheer to these veterans and their families at Christmas is of particular interest to members of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Mrs. Paul Erickson, president of Antioch Unit 748 informs us that as the holiday season approaches, statewide plans are in progress for remembering the thousands of veterans in hospitals with gifts for Christmas as well as providing all the essentials for a happy holiday season for the hospitalized veterans.

Rehabilitation chairmen of the 925 units in Illinois will gather at the many veterans' hospitals to trim trees, wrap gifts and participate in making other preparations which will add a cheerful note to the hospital atmosphere. Included in these preparations in fifteen hospitals will be arrangements for the Christmas gift shop, sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, which provide the hospitalized veterans an opportunity to enjoy the real spirit of Christmas—the joy of giving. Veterans, with little or no funds may select gifts for members of their family at no cost to them.

Patients able to leave their beds have the privilege of selecting gifts from the shop's shelves. For many bed patients, hospital carts are loaded with gifts and taken to their bedside and they make their selection. Auxiliary volunteer workers operate the shops gift wrap and mail the packages. Gifts are spent in the veteran's name with no Auxiliary identification on the package.

Gifts for Yanks
In addition to the Auxiliary's own Christmas program and gift distribution, members of the American Legion Auxiliary will again assist the American Legion in the tenth annual "Gifts for Yanks Who Gave" drive, headed by Edward Clamage, past commander of the Dept. of Illinois, and Mrs. Alvin G. Strum, Illinois State president of the Auxiliary, hoping that our hospitalized veterans will again be remembered as in former years, through the generosity of neighbors, friends and members of the American Legion and its Auxiliary. This program provides gifts for veterans of all wars, including the men returned from Korea, who are confined in hospitals, and women patients in the hospitals, who served in the armed forces. No veteran is forgotten.

Veterans' Craft Exchange
Outstanding among the features of the Auxiliary's Rehabilitation program is the Veterans' Craft Exchange, which is given special emphasis preceding the holiday season in that it is the shop where handicraft articles made by the disabled veterans and or members of their families, are displayed and sold, and the proceeds of the sales are paid to the veterans.

The shop has a wide and varied display of articles ranging from small key rings to hand crocheted bed spreads and tablecloths, a complete leather line, which includes hand-bags, bill folds, belts, cigarette cases and key containers, articles of copper, silver and other metals as well as shell and plastics.

Mrs. Clarence Larson is Veteran Craft chairman for Antioch unit and has many of the articles on display at her home on North Main street, Antioch. She will gladly show them to you and if she does not have what you want, will get it for you from the Craft Exchange shop. Gifts for any member of the family can be selected and all are moderately priced.

Mrs. Walter Hills is Rehabilitation chairman of Antioch unit and will welcome any magazines, books or carpet rags for the Veteran hospital at Downey.

Anyone having any articles to give may leave them at Mrs. Hills' home or call Antioch 155-M-1.

Other rehabilitation projects are supported by units of the Auxiliary all through the years, such as: Treasure Chest fund, to which each unit contributes and which is used to provide comforts to all hospitalized veterans in Illinois, consisting of the small daily necessities required, such as cigarettes, tooth paste, lotion, shaving cream, etc.

Insulin and Vapronex funds, which provide these medications, free of charge, to needy veteran sufferers of diabetes and asthma.

Canteen books, which periodically provide hospitalized veterans drawing less than $20 per month compensation, with a cash value book with which he may purchase items from the hospital canteen.

Hospitality Fund, which makes a party a month possible in each hospital.

Auxiliary Nursery at Downey hospital at North Chicago, which provides care for the children of hospitalized veterans while the child's mother visits with her husband in the hospital.

possible through the generosity of local units of American Legion Auxiliary in Illinois. Antioch Unit has contributed well to all these rehabilitation projects.

Central High Observes National Book Week Under Club Sponsorship

Students of Central High School, Salem, Wis., went "all out" to observe National Book Week Nov. 16-21. Plans and preparations for Book Week were assumed jointly by the Library club and members of the Library Science class under the direction of Miss Irene M. Bosman, librarian.

Attractive posters were made which were posted in all the classrooms, the library, and the high school lobby display case. A large display bulletin board built around the Book Week slogan, "Reading Is Fun" was set up in the library as well as a large display of new books which were entered into the library during Book Week. Pictures of this exhibit were taken for the high school annual. Bookmarks purchased by the Library club were distributed to every student in school by the club members. The recording, "How a Book is Made," also purchased for the school by the Library club, was played to all of the English classes. Two movies, "The Library Story" and "The Newcomer Visit the Library" were shown to the student body on Friday.

Book jacket displays of new books of interest to each of the departments in high school were to be found in every classroom. Catchy slogans on classroom blackboards relative to the use of books and libraries met the eyes of students as they entered the room. Classroom activities further stimulated interest in books and reading.

When the announcement came over the PA system that the new books were ready for circulation towards the latter part of the week, student response was so enthusiastic that the library had all the earmarks of "bargain day" at a department store.

HIGH STANDARDS IN CHEMISTRY
by Science Features

One of the major problems facing scientists who search for new chemical weapons against disease is to find drugs which will be harmful to disease organisms — but harmless to the human body.

To maintain these high standards, every drug is thoroughly tested in the laboratory before being released for use in humans. It must not cause any harmful "side-effects," even when given for a prolonged period of time and in doses sufficient to combat the germs.

One indication of how successful such efforts have been was shown in a recent report by two Army physicians who treated 70 tuberculosis patients with massive doses of terramycin for four months. The patients were given five grams of the antibiotic daily, instead of the usual one gram dose.

Reporting on the patients' response to the treatment, the physicians said that none of the patients had to have the drug discontinued during the four months — and noted that such heavy doses of terramycin had scarcely ever before been given for so long a period.

In cases where mild stomach upsets were noted, these reactions were checked by giving the drug with meals, with cream, or with corn syrup, the doctors said.

Lacina Undergoes Surgery

John Lacina, a barber with his shop at the northwest corner of Rte. 21 and Grass Lake rd., at Loon lake, was stricken with a perforated stomach ulcer while at work Friday evening and was rushed to Victory Memorial hospital by the Antioch Rescue squad for an operation. He expects to be back on duty in a week or ten days.

Central High Librarian Introduces Speakers

A large delegation of elementary, high school, and college librarians from all over the state of Wisconsin assembled at the Library Sectional meeting of the Wisconsin Education association during its state convention held in Milwaukee recently.

The annual luncheon for school librarians of Wisconsin which was held at the Plankinton hotel preceded the business meeting at which the president, Miss Thelma Bound, librarian of Wauwatosa Senior High school, presided. Following this, the program was then placed in charge of the vice-president, Miss Irene M. Bosman, librarian of Central High school, Salem, Wis., who introduced the speakers of the afternoon. Miss Bosman is vice-president of the Wisconsin Public School Library association.

Dilla W. McBean, director of the division of libraries of the Chicago Public schools who also is the author of the "Picture Book Dictionary" and who with Ruth Harshaw originated "The Battle of the Books," a radio quiz program, gave the school librarians some very practical pointers during the course of her speech, "Are Library Collections Meeting Curriculum Needs?" Clara Ingram Judson of Evanston well known lecturer and popular writer of children's stories and teen-age books gave a most inspiring talk on the writer's perspective of "Between the Covers."

Santa to Be at Gavin School Saturday P. M.

Santa Claus is coming to Ingle-side Saturday. He will be at Gavin School gym for the Country Fair to be kept from 4 to 10 p. m. The Gavin P. T. A. is sponsoring this gala event. This year bigger and better booths will feature gifts for all ages. "Goodies" from the bakery booth, wrapping paper, Christmas cards, plants and fancy goods will be attractively displayed.

The White Elephant booth and a parcel post booth, plus a good selection of games to be played as well as a fine assortment of toys from Santa's workshop are other attractions. Movies on fishing will be shown for the men and in another room, continuous cartoons for the children.

A dinner will be served from 5 to 8 p. m. in the school lunch room.

Postoffice Hours Change

Postmaster Roy I. Kufalk said yesterday that on Dec. 9 and 30 (Wednesdays) the post office will be closed at noon, but will be open the afternoons of Wednesday, Dec. 16 and 23 for Christmas mailings. Kufalk asked the cooperation of the public in mailing large amounts of mail earlier in the day as the employees cannot get it ready for the 6 p. m. dispatch unless this is done.

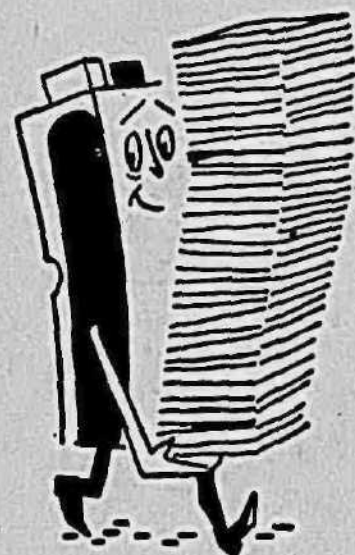

Kindergarten at Lake Villa

Kindergarten classes will be started Monday at the Lake Villa Consolidated school with Mrs. Alfreda Schuler of Venetian Village as the teacher. The morning class will be from 9 a. m. to 11:15 a. m. and the afternoon class from noon to 2:15 p. m. Parents will have to make one of the trips in the delivery of the children; a school bus will make the other trip. This is the first kindergarten for the district.

Homemakers know one of the dangerous spots for household accidents can be the kitchen floor. Water, food, grease, frequently get spilled there. To prevent a serious slip and fall, take the time and effort to always clean up immediately any liquids and foods that get on the floor. Also be careful when waxing not to give it too high a polish.
